Amendments have been made to the figures reported under BVPI 149. The guidance and implementation of the reporting of this statistic now allows for the removal of all properties from 2005/06 onwards. This is to be considered especially in relation to yearly comparisons as previous years' statistics contain domestic properties.

Please be aware that currently for Quarter 1 2007-08 there are 7 outstanding that may affect the following data once complete.

⁽³⁾ Source: ONS 2005 mid-year estimates.

⁽⁴⁾ Some fire and rescue services have been reviewing the way in which non-fatal casualties are recorded. This could account for some of the changes in the injury rates in 2002/03.

⁽⁵⁾ In 2004/05 County Durham and Darlington improved their recording procedures for injuries. Consequently, a larger proportion have been recorded as 'precautionary checks' (and therefore been excluded from BVPI calculations) than in previous years. This accounts for some of the reduction in 2004/05.

⁽⁶⁾ In 2004/05 Humberside improved their recording procedures for injuries. Consequently, a larger proportion have been recorded as 'precautionary checks' (and therefore been excluded from BVPI calculations) than in previous years. This accounts for some of the reduction in 2004/05.

⁽³⁾ The data for 2003/04 to 2005/06 have been collected on an FRS17 basis. The main difference between these and previous years is that decisions relating to pensions are accounted for in the year they are taken, rather than in the year to which they apply. As a result, comparisons between 2003/04, 2004/05 and 2005/06 and earlier years may not be valid.

⁽⁴⁾ Data have been revised following the publication of revised mid-year population estimates by ONS in October 2004.

⁽⁵⁾ 2003/04 was previously published as 53.2. It has been revised in the light of an amendment received from the Brigade.
N/Av Not available.

This BVPI is produced yearly and is taken from the CIPFA statistics. 2005/06 data has now been verified by the CLG. 2006/07 and 2007/08 are estimates based on the budget.

BVPI 150 concerns the expenditure per head of population on the provision of fire and rescue services. For information purposes, a graph of historic verified data is shown, with comparison made with the national average.

These tables cover the attendance at fires and RTCs classed as 'Life Risk', and show a monthly cumulative count on performance for the 2006/07 reporting year, which is the first reportable year. As such, the targets have been set against no historic data. Monitoring will continue monthly and reported via this report on a quarterly basis.

It should be noted that the areas already planned for improvement, including XL cabs and additional rescue equipment, will help to improve the Brigade's performance in the areas where standards are not currently being met.
